

MEN NAMED FOR OFFICER SCHOOL

PARTIAL LIST OF SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATES.

By far the most important occurrence in Camp Wadsworth last week was the opening of the Officers' Training School. At the time The Gas Attack went to press the full details of the training schedule had not been made public. Nor was the entire list of successful candidates obtainable.

The students were selected by a board of examiners composed of Lt. Col. William A. Taylor, 10th Infantry; Captain Edward E. Gauche, Division Personnel Officer and Lieutenant Charles R. Tennant of the 12th Infantry.

The qualifications necessary for admission were very much the same as were those required of the applicants for admission to the Plattsburg camps. The men were questioned regarding their educational attainments, their business or professional experience and their military training.

The course will cover a period of three months. The daily schedule is so arranged that the student will be kept at it for almost fifteen hours a day.

The faculty is composed of the following officers: Commandant—Lieut. Col. William A. Taylor, 108th Infantry; Senior Instructor—Maj. J. Scott Button, 105th Infantry; Assistant Senior Instructors—Capt. Jacob S. Clinton, 105th Infantry, and Capt. George B. Gibbon, 104th Field Artillery; Adjutant—First Lieut. Douglas T. Cameron, Division Headquarters Troop; Supply Officers—Capt. Frederick A. Thiessen, 1st N. Y. Infantry, and Capt. Seneca M. Pike, 12th N. Y. Infantry; Infantry Instructors—Capt. Archland M. Best, 10th N. Y. Infantry; Capt. Max Juffe, 12th N. Y. Infantry; Capt. Edgar C. Niles, 10th N. Y. Infantry; First Lieut. John T. Sheehan, 106th N. Y. Infantry; First Lieut. Harry W. Hayward, 107th Infantry; First Lieut. Arthur J. McKenna, 107th Infantry, and First Lieut. James F. Oakleaf, 108th Infantry; Field Artillery Instructors—First Lieut. William H. Thomas, First Lieut. Arthur Acheson, Second Lieut. William H. Merriek, Second Lieut. Charles Sabourin, all of the 104th Field Artillery; Signal Corps Instructor—First Lieut. James G. Motley, 102d Field Signal Battalion; Engineer Instructor Capt. E. F. Robinson, 102d Engineers.

Co. M, 105th Infantry and Battery F, 104th Field Artillery are attached to the school and placed under the orders of the commandant thereof.
