102ND ENGINEERS, INFIRMARY.

The new Infirmary is now open and going in full swing. The Dental Parlors of the 104th, 105th, 106th Machine Gun Battalions, and the Engineers, are installed in the building, and the crowds going in and out reminds one of a summer hotel.

Major Goldstein is holding a Medical School for the enlisted men, which is meeting with great success. Lieuts. Bles and Fitzgerald, of the Engineers, and Lieuts. Tibbetts, Powers and Kaiser, of the Machine Gun Battalions, are assisting in the daily instruction lectures.

At the meeting of the Social Organization held last night, Sergt. Fink was elected Chairman of the Organization, and Prvt. Shay, formerly of the 71st Infantry, its Secretary and Treasurer. The boys are sure they will have some good times with this pair at their head.

Prvt. Carl Trach was promoted to a Private First Class for teaching the horses to work without stalling.

Prvt. Sweeney, our barber, is trimming all the boys for their hard earned money.

Incidentally speaking, I think this makes matters quite clear. —PRVT. L. I. S.

DIVISION HEADQUARTERS TROOP.

We have mentioned Howard Stark during the past, for reasons usually beyond his control. This time we print his name to put a dent in his bank account. He assured us personally that he only buys G. A. when we print his name and he borrows somebody else's copy to learn that fact.

Joe Crawley, one of our medical boarders, has trained his auto truck to jump on the sidewalk when a real machine gets any where near it.

Wayman, of the Army Field Clerks' Sorority, was arrested by an M. P. in town last week for attempting to masquerade as an officer. The eyesight of the M. P. must be in poor shape.

The troop mascots are increasing in numbers. They now include a goat, dog and two cats.

There have been chicken fanciers of all kinds on the troop street ever since the camp was pitched, but the latest addition is the Pigeon Section Signal Corps, which has built two cotes under the eaves of the Mess Shack.

Clerk MacDonough and Mechanic McLaughlin are two of the best soccer players in the Division, if you care to believe MacDonough. We do, for he makes up the detail and guard lists.

Isn't it a fact that on your way to New York on a furlough all you see are Jacob Rupprecht's signs, while all the way back it's Coca-Cola.

The Company made a record in hiking, shooting and conduct going to and from the range that is going to be hard to beat. It speaks well for the Company and for the officers, and they are justly proud of it.

We've seen some men work hard, but when we saw our Lieut. Stevenson loading clips and shooting his rifle off while on the 300-yard rapid fire, we'll have to admit that all the other work was play.

A lot of the men are growing moustaches for over-seas service. They will serve as camouflage, for some look like porcupine hairs, and others cactus plants.
